

Part I: My Family and Its Irish History

Chapter 1: What's in a Name?

Chapter 2: Mom's and Pop's Origins

Chapter 3: Mom's and Pop's Childhood

Part II: A New Home in America

Chapter 4: An American Odyssey

Chapter 5: Settling in the Bronx

Chapter 6: Growing Up in an Irish Immigrant Family

Chapter 7: Uncle Pat, Our Life-Long Companion

Chapter 8: Memories of the Nearby House that Ruth Built

Chapter 9: St. Angela Merici Grammar School, 1942-1950

Chapter 10: Bishop Dubois High School, 1950-1954

Chapter 11: Fordham College, 1954-1958

Chapter 12: Fordham Law School, 1958-1961

Chapter 13: Meeting the Love of My Life: Emalie

Part IV: Career as a Lawyer

Chapter 14: Learning in Part-Time Jobs

Chapter 15: Joining a Small Law Firm—Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher, & Flom

Chapter 16: Leaving Skadden

Chapter 17: Becoming a Law School Dean: An Overview

Chapter 18: Commitments, Challenges, and Special Moments

Chapter 19: The Many Hats a Dean Wears

Chapter 20: Fordham Law Goes to Ireland

Chapter 21: Leaving the Deanship

Chapter 22: Becoming a Classroom Teacher

Part V: The Vocation of Service

Chapter 23: Serving Others

Chapter 24: The Voluntary Bar

Chapter 25: Public Service: From Carey to Koch to Cuomo to Bloomberg to Kaye

Chapter 26: Boards of Non-for-Profit, Charitable, and Public Institutions

Chapter 27: The Catholic Church

Part VI: Peacemaking and Problem Solving

Chapter 28: Learning the Art of Conflict Resolution

Chapter 29: Conflicts in the Public Eye

Part VII: Constitutional Endeavors

Chapter 30: Presidential Succession

Chapter 31: The Electoral College System

Chapter 32: Other Constitutional Opportunities

Part VIII: The World of Government Ethics

Chapter 33: The New York State Commission on Government Integrity

Chapter 34: New York State Ethics Commission

Chapter 35: The New York State Public Integrity Commission

Part IX: Marriage and Family

Chapter 36: Our Growing Family

Chapter 37: Deaths in the Family

Chapter 38: Roses in December—Rediscovering Mom and Pop

Chapter 39: My Family: Immediate and Extended

Part X: On a Personal Note

Chapter 40: What I Learned

Chapter 41: Advice to My Grandchildren

Appendix